
TAHA MUHAMMAD ALI

TOURING THE UNITED STATES — FALL 2006

Tour Dates

Dodge Poetry Festival

September 28–October 1

New York City

Poets House
October 3

San Francisco

Poetry Center
San Francisco State Univ.
October 5

Seattle

St. Mark's Cathedral
October 7

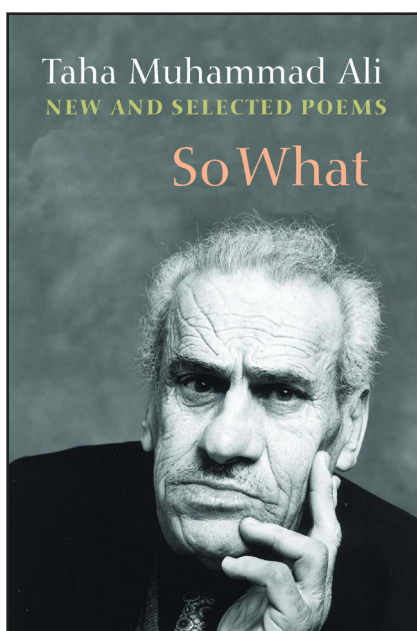

Port Townsend, WA

Wheeler Theater
Fort Worden State Park
October 8

Washington, DC

Chapters Bookstore
October 11

“Timely and affecting.” —Publishers Weekly

Palestinian poet Taha Muhammad Ali launches his U.S. tour this Fall as an international headliner at the Dodge poetry festival, reading from his new book, So What: New and Selected Poems. Muhammad Ali captivates international audiences with poems of political complexity, bittersweet humor, and—above all—humanity.

“A Palestinian Muslim whose own village, Saffuriyya, was obliterated by Israel in 1948 and who has managed to distill from that devastating experience not slogans, not hatred, but art of the highest order.” —The Boston Globe

“Tales of perseverance and wile, the basic ingredients of survival.” —Arab Studies Journal

“Taha Muhammad Ali speaks with an emotional forthrightness.” —The Washington Post

COPPER CANYON PRESS

TOLL FREE: 877-501-1393 / WWW.COPPERCANYONPRESS.ORG

Complete tour information and poetry samples at www.coppercanyonpress.org/tahatour